

CASES TO BE HEARD IN COURT

Judge Howell was at Farmington yesterday, finishing legal business for the month of the second district for the October term of court. Because of this the regular Saturday proceedings in handling the probate and motion calendars of the court for Weber county, have been discontinued. The court will give all its time to Weber county legal affairs during the next month.

All the criminal cases of the county will be considered and as many as possible will be disposed of. There are fourteen criminal cases on the calendar, and possibly there may be others that will be called before the month is over. The court has stated that the criminal cases must be given consideration at the earliest possible date, and that they should be tried and settled. Defendants will be given all the time they desire in their preparation for trial, but Judge Howell is of the opinion that the state should be ready in all the cases when they are called. District Attorney Nathan J. Harris states that he is anxious to dispose of the criminal work at an early date and, unless something unforeseen occurs, he will be ready for trial in all the cases on the calendar for November.

THREE BOYS AND A DOG IN JAIL

Three small boys and a dog were gathered in by the police at an early hour yesterday morning and locked in basement cell of the city prison. While there was no charge against the canine, the police found that it would prove an unpleasant task to separate the youngsters from their four-footed companion, and the dog was permitted to accompany them to their cell.

The boys are Willie Palmer, aged 11; John Myers, aged 11, and Eddie Myers, aged 7. Both the Myers boys have appeared before Judge V. C. Gunnell in the past. The Palmer boy is making his debut in juvenile court circles. The youths were arrested for the theft of a hatchet, which they were endeavoring to sell at the second-hand store. The merchant notified the police of the boys' presence at his store and an officer took them to the police station.

The boys stated that they had not been home since Friday night, and that in company with the dog, who acted as sentinel, they slept through the darkness in a barn. Yesterday the young adventures stole from the barn and, seeing a bright new hatchet in the yard, they had taken it. They intended to sell the tool to obtain money to buy breakfast.

One of the strange features of the case, according to the probation officers, is the fact that up till a late hour yesterday no inquiries concerning the whereabouts of the boys had been received at the police station from the parents. It is likely that the Myers boys will be taken into the juvenile court and committed to the State Industrial school. The case of the Palmer boy will be investigated and disposed of accordingly.

JOHN DOE IS A COLORED WOMAN

No name has appeared on the local police records with more reckless frequency than John Doe, and yet never until yesterday has this evasive appellation masked the identity of a woman.

When the clerk of the police court yesterday called on the familiar name there arose in the court room a colored woman who answered, "I guess that's me, your honor."

Mastering a half smile, the clerk announced that John Doe was charged with keeping a disorderly house at large a vicious dog on Wall avenue, designating the street number of the Doe residence.

"That's where I live, your honor," replied the defendant, "but I don't own no dog like that. I never did own no dog."

When the judge inquired if the complaining witness was present, he was informed that no was not. There being no evidence to show that the colored woman was guilty the case was dismissed.

J. Anderson pleaded guilty to unlawful drunkenness and was fined $5. J. H. Call and John Lee also admitted that they had drunk in excess of the stipulation of the city ordinances and

ELKS PRESENT A FLAG TO GOSHEN

A delegation of Ogden Elks, headed by J. H. Knauss, went to Salt Lake Friday evening for the purpose of presenting to Rev. Elmer L. Goshen a flag which they had purchased at the request of the Ogden lodge, he made an address on the flag before the Ogden people. The gift which they brought was a handsome silk flag four and one-half by five and one-half feet in size and mounted on a standard bearing a silver plate suitably inscribed. The presentation was made by Mr. Knauss, who was followed by C. O. De Wolf and C. A. Boyd in happy though brief speeches. Ralph E. Hoag furnished the music. Mr. Goshen was taken entirely by surprise, but responded in a brief speech of acceptance.

Aside from the consideration of the probate and motion calendars, naturalization cases and ex parte matters, there are ten civil cases set for trial during the month, and at the setting of the cases a few days ago, Judge Howell stated that the parties must be ready for trial if possible. Cases that have been continued for a number of times and thus kept on the calendar for months, and in some cases for a year or more, will be tried when called, or they will be dismissed. The court will have to spend about a week in the hearing of cases in other districts and other judges will attend court here to take up the cases in which Judge Howell is disqualified to act.

GOLD STRIKE IN A NEAR-BY MINE

J. W. Burnham, secretary and manager of the Southern Pacific Mining company, who is down from the mine, says a promising gold discovery has been made.

"We are willing to disclose to the public now," said Mr. Burnham, "the fact that there has recently been uncovered a very large body of free gold ore in the crosscut off from the 300-foot station in the tunnel on the Southern Pacific Gold and Copper Mining company's property, eight miles north of Ogden. The company particularly has been assured finances for carrying on a heavy campaign of development until shipment of the ores to the smelters in Salt Lake Valley has been started."

Mr. Burnham is on his way with men and supplies to start work Monday morning.

MISSION IN CATHOLIC CHURCH

The Redemptorist Fathers of the Catholic church will begin a series of sermons at St. Joseph's church this morning at 10 o'clock.

Fathers Cantwell and Mahoney are speakers of unusual ability and are deep thinkers in matters pertaining to the spiritual welfare of humanity. They are missionaries of untiring zeal and energy and have met with success wherever they have labored. They come to Ogden from Salt Lake City, where, for the past two weeks, they have conducted a retreat similar to the one to be opened here.

It is expected that they will have the co-operation of all the Catholic people of this city in spreading the moral truths of Christianity. Father Cushman says the church will be open to all people and those of every faith are invited.

Full notice of the meetings will be given in the Standard on Monday next.

NOTICE

To Knights of Columbus and friends: Owing to the death of our beloved brother, W. L. Maginnis, the grand hall of the hall will be closed until some time in the near future.

STATE FAIR IS CRITICISED BY PAPER

That there was some unfair judging at the Utah state fair is the statement made by the Breeder's Gazette of Chicago, an authority on such subjects. In its issue of October 19, that paper, speaking of the fair, says that the horse exhibit, so far as number is concerned, was decidedly disappointing.

Lee Hammon of Weber county made a protest against the method of awards, and of his objections the Breeder's Gazette says:

The class for three-year-old stallions furnished the champion of the fair. This honor went to Hiverant, an extraordinary well developed massive black imported colt, shown by that pioneer breeder, Lee Hammon of Weber county, who purchased him of Alex. Galbraith & Son, De Kalb, Ill. Although only a colt, this was the heaviest boned and weightiest animal in the show.

The class for Clydesdale stallions, four years old or over, brought together for the first time two of the most noted horses of the breed in America—Heather Blossom, and Sir Marcus—both of them international winners, as well as being champions elsewhere. Unfortunately the rivalry was so keen and the respective merits of the two horses so close that the owners of Sir Marcus, the Rocky Mountain Stud company, entered a protest against the regular judge and got a special committee headed by the horse superintendent to judge that class and that class alone. The superintendent's action, he affirmed, was to secure the same exhibitor's patronage in the future. He was taken to task for it by the board afterwards.

When it is stated that the regular judge was W. D. Dobson, of Des Moines, Ia., a man of experience and national reputation, who had no possible interest in either horse, and who judged every other class in the fair with acceptance, the absurdity of entertaining such a protest will be understood. It is high time that state fair managers were getting above the petty puerile practices which so long have made the conduct of our county fairs ridiculous by listening to every "kick" which happens along or who fears competition and wants a judge of his own choosing. When a reputable man is asked to judge, as in the present case, he should be backed up by the management and no account be asked to stand aside to please any exhibitor. The whole proceeding was farcical in the extreme.

A Rare Chance to Own a Genuine Fur Coat

We cannot foresee the time when a chance to own a fur coat will be as favorable to the ladies of Ogden as it is today. If we had bought the coats outright we would have ask more—but since the maker has merely "loaned" them to us we can make our own prices, and having sold any part of them, return the balance.

Naturally we prefer to sell them all if possible—even at a small profit, for after they are returned to the owner our chance of profit is gone. If you will look, we will make satisfactory prices.

Genuine Pony, genuine caracul, genuine French Seal, Marman. Lengths are full or three quarter. Prices range from $69 to $125.00. A saving of one-third to one-half.

children. It is much desired that all the Sunday school children be present at 11:30 and their parents with them. The combined service will last little over an hour. The Christian Endeavor meeting will be held at 7:45 followed by the evening sermon at 7:45 by the pastor, S. C. C. Hickman.

DENVER WOMAN IS FATALLY BURNED

Denver, Oct. 29.—Mrs. Esther Ramsey, 29 years old, was fatally burned today when she attempted to start a fire with kerosene. Mrs. Ramsey was alone at the time and, when her screams attracted the neighbors, it was too late to save her life, in the opinion of physicians.

The woman's husband is in jail on the charge of highway robbery and when informed of the accident he begged to be taken to her side. She was unable to recognize him and his grief was pitiful.
